Introduction

These Obituaries from the earliest Tennessee Newspapers previously had been available to the public in the card file of the Tennessee State Library and Archives in Nashville, and hence were unknown to many people working on families in Tennessee.

The Publisher wishes to thank Miss Kendall J. Cram, Director of the State Library and Archives in Nashville for allowing him to have these thousands of cards xeroxed for use in this book.

The reader will note that these notices cover the entire state of Tennessee for the most part, beginning with the earliest ones in 1794 in the Knoxville Gazette.
