LAND GRANTS

In 1783 the State of North Carolina decided Washington District which extended as the present State of Tennessee to the Mississippi River. A line was surveyed beginning at William Williams' place on Horse Creek to the Mouth of Big Limestone, to Chimney Top Mountain to the mouth of Cloud's Creek on Holston River. All land south and west of this line was Greene County, North Carolina.

There was the land and the water, few trails and settlers were coming fast. Land was being taken fast for homes and farms, and large tracts for speculation. Surveying was inadequate, property lines overlapped but by 1800, after much despute and re-surveying, correct lines were established.

These grants do put the settlers in the general section which can be shown by the map of rivers.

I hope you enjoy this.
