SOME DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH GUYTON (GUITON) AND HANNAH WHITAKER

Foreword

Joseph Guyton and his brother, Nathaniel, came to South Carolina before the Revolutionary War, settling in Union County, in that portion which is now Cherokee County. The lands of Joseph Guyton are some twenty miles below Gaffney, bordering on Abingdon Creek. Through the cooperation of the Rev. Troy A. Bratton, Pastor of Abingdon Creek Baptist Church, the abandoned Guyton family cemetery was located. There are remains of several tombstones, and the tombstone of Hannah Whitaker Guyton, wife of Joseph, is still standing intact. The inscription is clearly legible. It reads - "In Memory of Hannah W. Guyton who died May 30th 1812 in the 81st year of her life". Family tradition is that Joseph was also buried in the family cemetery, but no trace of his tombstone was found.

The first proved record of this Guyton family's ancestors is in Norwich, England. (See Appendix A for detail of Joseph Guyton's ancestors.) There, Samuel Guyton was buried on February 1, 1696, and his wife, Elizabeth, was buried August 18, 1728. Their son, Samuel, was baptized in 1668 at St. George's Tombland, Norwich, England, and was buried January 15, 1728. His wife, Margaret, was buried January 16, 1731. Their son, John Guyton, was baptized on February 19, 1696, at St. Martin at Palace, Norwich, England. John Guyton came to Maryland before 1740 and died in Harford County, Md., in 1783. His wife, Mary, survived him and is thought to have died about 1803. John and Mary Guyton were the parents of Joseph and Nathaniel, and eight other children. (See Appendix B for more detail.)

Although the Huguenot ancestor of this family in France has not been specifically traced, there is much evidence showing the Guiton family to have been Huguenots or "Protestants". Records in England show the Guiton family there in the middle 1600's as members of Anglican churches - St. George's Tombland and St. Martin at Palace. The will of John Guyton (and later legal documents of other descendants) includes both the French and English spelling of the family name - Guiton and Guyton.

The following is quoted from the Official History of Laurens County, Georgia, 1807-1941, edited and published by John Laurens Chapter, D. A. R., Dublin, Georgia, 1941, Bertha Sheppard Hart, M. A.

"Guytons in France - (Giton, Guiton, Guton, Guyton) - Of French Huguenot lineage, the Guytons were among the French Protestants who left France seeking religious and political freedom, first in England, later in America.

"In Maithol's 'Directory of the French Nobility' we find that the Guiton family originated in Normandie, with one branch establishing its residence in Brittany. The family bore the title of Count.

"The 'Concise History of France' - Guizot-Gustave Masson, records the fact that John Guiton was Burgess of LaRochele at the time of the seige by Louis XIII, A. D. 1625. On page 353: 'The seige of LaRochele has become famous in history; it lasted thirteen years and the brave Huguenots had to surrender in spite of the heroism of Guiton, the mayor of the town, assisted by the energy of the old Duchess of Robu!'. (The World Book Encyclopedia states that the seige of LaRochele was led personally by Cardinal Richelieu, and surrender occurred in October, 1628.)

Note: This listing of some of the descendants of Joseph Guyton and Hannah Whitaker includes over 2,300 direct descendants. The information on which the listing is based was obtained from many "family members", far too numerous to list here. My sincere thanks to all who contributed.
