THREE RECTORS OF HUNGAR'S PARISH AND THEIR WIFE

By MRS. P. W. HIDEN

Ann² Graves, wife in succession to three rectors of Hungar's Parish, was the daughter of Capt. Thos.¹ Graves, an "antient officer" of the Virginia Company who came to Va. in the fall of 1608. After living for some years near Jamestown, he moved to Eastern Shore, establishing himself in what later became Hungar's Parish, Northampton Co. We know from the land patents that Capt. Thomas¹ made several trips out of the country, to England presumably, and on one of his return voyages his family accompanied him. This was after 1623, as the Muster taken that year shows him the only one of the name on Eastern Shore (Wise's "Early History of the Eastern Shore of Va.," p. 38). Of his known children, Francis² (W. & M. Quar., 2nd series, vol. 16) and Thomas² (Tyler's Mag. vols. 19 & 20) have been elsewhere discussed, an article on John² is in preparation, and the daughter Ann² is the heroine of these notes.

While it had been organized earlier, our first reference to Hungar's Parish in the county records is on Feb. 19, 1633/4 (Accawmacke Rec. 1632-40, p. 11). At this time Mr. Wm. Cotton, minister, complained in court "that tho he had often desired the church wardens to gather or levy his duties of tobacco & corne due him from his parishioners of Accawmacke yet the church wardens have not gathered the same. John Major in behalf of the church wardens doth answer & depose that he, this deponent, hath three several times required warrant of Mr. Robins for the levying of the Minister's tythes, and that he the sayd Mr. Robins hath delayed to give any such warrants. Walter Scott Prost. [Provost] Marshall sayeth that he brought such warrants to Mr. Robins to signe and he tore the same." From this we see that Mr. Robins did not believe in a state-supported church and that whatever general views Mr. Cotton might hold on the subject, his particular one was that he wanted what was legally his. Presumably, the tithes were paid, for he remained rector, and on July 10, 1637, we find him patenting 350 acres on Hungar's Creek, 100 acres of which was "for his own and the personal adventure of his wife Ann² Graves" and the remainder for the transportation of Eleanor Hill, Rich'd. Hill, Edward Eason, and Domingo and Samso, negroes. (Nugent's "Cavaliers & Pioneers," vol. 1, p. 59) Mr. Wise, in his "Early History of the Eastern Shore," p. 286, makes the statement that these West Indian negroes brought over by Mr. Cotton are the first slaves mentioned in the old records.

Wm. Cotton was the son of Andrew and Joane Cotton, of Bunbury, Cheshire, and brother of the Verlinda Cotton (d. 1675) who married Wm. Stone. Wm. Stone (b. in Northamptonshire, Eng., 1603, d. in Md. 1660) was the son of Capt. John Stone who had interests both in Mass. and on the Eastern Shore of Va. and who "was killed by the Pequods on the Connecticut River while returning to his home in Va." William Stone came to the Eastern Shore about 1632, was a justice in 1633, member of the first recorded Vestry of Hungar's Parish in 1635, and in 1648 was commissioned Governor of Maryland, to which colony he then removed. (Wise, pp. 106-7, Md. Hist. Mag., vol. 16, p. 191). Mr. Wise (p. 258) states that Wm. Cotton died 1640.

So far as the writer knows, Wm. Cotton left only one child, a daughter Verlinda,³ who on Sept. 1, 1658, entered into a marriage contract with Thos. Burdett (Northampton Rec. Book 9, p. 19).

We come next to Ann's² second husband. Nathaniel Eaton (b. in 1609) was the fifth son of Richd. Eaton, vicar of Great Bunworth, Cheshire. He was at Cambridge 1629-30, obtained a license to pass to Leyden 1632, and came to New England in 1637. His brother, Theophilus, who came over about the same time had a distinguished career, was agent at the court of Denmark, a London merchant of high reputation, and later, settling in what is now Conn., became Governor of New Haven. A third brother, Samuel, a clergyman, came to New Haven but returned to England in 1640. Cotton Mather sums Nathaniel's career in one sentence: "A Blade who marvelously deceived the expectation of Good Men concerning him," but we shall give a few details exemplifying his verdict.

Aided possibly by the reputation of his brothers, Nathaniel was employed in 1638 as first master of the school that later became Harvard University. This arrangement, lasting probably about a year, was brought to an end by his cruelty to his usher, Nathaniel Briscoe, and the resultant suit. Gov. Winthrop in his "History of New England" gives the most complete account of this the writer has seen, hence he will be quoted. He states that after a quarrel with the usher Nathaniel procured a cudgel "which was a walnut tree plant big enough to have killed a horse" and beat the unfortunate man nearly two hours before he could be stopped. At the trial, when Eaton was charged with this, another of his ushers and some of his scholars testified that he would give them between twenty and thirty stripes at a time "and would not leave till they confessed what he required." Complaints were made also that the scholars who boarded with him had poor and scanty fare. Eaton laid the blame for this on his wife, whose reply we quote in part: "For their breakfast that it was not so well ordered, the flower" (sic) "not so fine as it might nor so well boiled or stirred, at all times that it was so, it was my sin of neglect and want of that care that ought to have been in one that the Lord had intrusted with such work. Concerning their beef that was allowed them as they affirm, which I confess had been my duty to have seen they should have had it and continued to have had it because it was my husband's command, but truly I must confess to my shame I can not remember that ever they had it nor that ever it was taken from them." So cringing a confession arouses a feeling of pity that possibly the court felt too, for no punishment was meted out to her. Eaton was ordered to pay Briscoe £30, be fined 100 marks and debarred from teaching children within the jurisdiction of the court. He fled to Pascataquack, so Winthrop says, was captured, but by a ruse escaped and boarded a bark bound for Virginia. His estate, with some reservation for the support of his wife and children, was divided among his creditors, whom he owed £1000. Continuing, Winthrop says under the heading 1640: "Mr. Nathaniel Eaton, of whom mention is made before, being come to Va. took upon him to be a minister but was given up of God to extreme pride and sensuality, being usually drunken as the custom is there. He sent for his wife and children. Her friends here persuaded her to stay awhile but she went notwithstanding and the vessel was never heard of after." (Vol. 2, p. 22.)

So much for Nathaniel in Massachusetts. We come now to him in Virginia. On Feb. 28, 1639/40 (Va. State Library, Archives Div., Northampton Rec. Book 2, p. 26) we find him a witness to Argoll Yardley's appointment of Mr. Edmund Scarbrough as surveyor for certain lands on Hungar's Creek. On March 7, 1641/2, (Id., p. 120) the administrators of the estate of John Angood are ordered to "satisfye unto Nathaniel Littleton, Esq., for the use of Nathaniel Eaton, clerk, 70 lbs. of tobacco stripped, being for the tithes of seven persons, also 1 bushel and 7 pecks of corn."

About this time occurred his marriage to Ann² for in 1642, (Nugent's "Cavaliers & Pioneers," vol. 1, p. 135) John Holloway received a patent for land of which 350 acres was "by assignment from Nathaniel Eaton, clk., by right of intermarriage with the widow of Wm. Cotton, clk."

In February 1642/3, Nathaniel witnessed a deed from Geo. Ludlow to Argoll Yardley, and a month later the court appointed Nathaniel Littleton, Obedience Robins, John Neale and John Gookin to settle the dispute between Nathaniel Eaton and John Rosier, clerks, with a view toward equalizing the salary each received (Va. State Library, Archives Div., Northampton Rec. Book 2, pp. 212, 282). Whether the arbitration pleased Mr. Eaton or not we do not know but on March 26, 1646 (Nugent's "Cavaliers & Pioneers," vol. 1, p. 174) we find a patent to Francis Rice for "200 acres in Warwick Co. near Merry Point, adj. the lands of Thos. Owen, etc., Mr. Thos. Davis, upon Deep Creek and Nathaniel Eaton, Clerke," showing he had now left Eastern Shore and established himself in Warwick Co. His land was clearly not far from Daniel Gookin's grant in 1621, and there may have been some friendship between him and the Gookins that prompted his selection of the site.

What happened in Warwick we do not know, but a fragment from an Order Book of 1647 (Va. State Library, Archives Div.) gives the denouement: "Whereas Mr. Moore Fauntleroy at the last court held for this county confessed himself to stand indebted unto Mr. Sam'l. Farmer in the full and Just Sume of two Thousand Seven hundred pounds of tobo. and caske, 2432 lbs. thereof being then attached at the suite of the Commissioners of this county for the sd. Farmer his unlicensed carryinge away of Mr. Nath'l. Eaton out of this Collony. It is ordered that execution issue out agt. the said sume of 2432 of tobo, as by the sheriff attached in the hands of Mr. Moore Fauntleroy as aforesaid. Whereas their was attached in the hands of Mr. Moore Fauntleroy foure hundred sixty eight pounds of tobo. (due from him unto Sam. Farmer) att the suite of Mr. Tho. Bushrode by virtue of an order granted the last court for the unlicensed carryinge away of Mr. Nath. Eaton out of this Collonie, It is ordered that execution issue forth agt. the said sume of 468 lbs. of tobo. as by the sheriff attached in the hands of Mr. Moore Fauntleroy as aforesaid." The date for this court is not clear, but as the next court was May 1647, it was probably April 1647. While particulars are lacking, we can fancy the same characteristics brought the same results, and that Nathaniel's escape from his creditors in Mass. was duplicated in Va. Goodwin's "The Colonial Church in Virginia," p. 266, states that he was a Ph.D. & M.D. of Padua 1647, which seems a little unlikely, since he probably did not leave Va. before the winter of 1647.

After the Restoration, he became Vicar of Bideford, Devonshire, and was later imprisoned for debt, "where," as Mather says, "he did at length pay One Debt, namely, that unto Nature by Death." His death occurred 1674.

We have so far no documentary proof of any children of Nathaniel Eaton and Ann² Graves, but an Alexander and Samuel Eaton appear as witnesses with the Doughtie's in Charles Co., Md., between 1658-62 (Md. Hist. Mag., vol. 23, p. 349) and they may have been children of this marriage.

The silence between Nathaniel's flight from Va. and Ann's² third venture is broken only by this tantalizingly brief note from Northampton Rec. Book 3, p. 201: "Jan. 29, 1649/50. The court orders that a certificate be granted unto Mrs. Ann² Eaton to the Mayor & Aldermen of the city of Exeter according to her petition." The reason and nature of the petition are alike obscure, all we can say certainly is that Ann² had returned to her beloved Hungar's Parish. On June 8, 1657, she entered into a marriage contract with Francis Doughty, then its rector (Northampton Rec. Book 7, p. 48).

The career of Francis Doughty had been so varied that its highlights as given in the Md. Hist. Mag., vol. 23, pp. 155 et seq. are worth mentioning. He was the son of Francis Doughtie (d. 1634) merchant and alderman of Bristol. At the time of his father's death, Francis, Jr., with wife Bridget and three children, Mary, Francis and Elias, was established at Sodbury as rector. Drawn into the Puritan movement, and thereby losing his pulpit, he went to New England in 1638, where his son Enoch was born in 1639. After a short pastorate in Taunton, Mass., he settled in 1642 in the present Borough of Brooklyn, but because of hostile Indians soon moved to Manhattan. There he remained until 1646, acting as pastor of an English-speaking congregation which was a unit of the Reformed Church of the Netherlands. From 1647 to 1654, he was pastor of the settlement at Flushing, L. I. In 1655, his daughter Mary, who had married Adrian Vanderdonck, became a widow and returned to her father's home. About this time, accompanied probably by his daughter and youngest son Enoch, he moved to Va. His wife Bridget died either in Flushing or shortly after he reached Va.

We next hear of him in the Northampton Records when Mrs. Anne Littleton requests in her will, "Mr. Francis Doughty Minister and preacher of the Word in the parish to counsell my children." (Wise's "Eastern Shore," p. 271). In 1652, the Upper Parish of Northampton had been divided, the northern part was later called Accomack and its bounds corresponded with those of Accomack Co. formed in 1662 (Id., pp. 265-269). Hungar's, embracing the lower part of the peninsula, had been and remained more Puritan than Anglican, as has been shown both in their selection of rectors and in their unwillingness to pay tithes.

From 1658 or 9 until the spring of 1662, Francis Doughty was in Charles Co., Md., pastor of a church that was probably Anglican with some modifications. During his residence there his daughter married Hugh O'Neal, a planter of the County. Just as we do not know exactly when he left Hungar's, so we are ignorant of the date of his departure from Charles Co., but in June 1662, being then resident in Rappahannock Co., Va., he gave power of attorney to his son Enoch to settle certain suits pending in Charles Co. (Md. Hist. Mag., vol. 23, pp. 155 et seq.)

Apparently, he planned to make his home in Rappahannock Co., for on July 12, 1662, he purchased 200 acres on the north side of Rappahannock River (Rappa. Rec., 1656-65, p. 253) and in 1665 (Id., 1664-73, p. 19) the vestrymen of the parishes of Sittenbourn and Southam entered into a contract about his salary. It is interesting to note there is a Francis Doughty on the vestry, presumably the son Francis who had been in Flushing, L. I., had joined his father in Virginia.

The serenity of the situation was broken in 1668, when two of his prominent parishioners, Humphrey Booth and John Catlett, brought in a petition against the rector, alleging he had not allowed them to partake of Holy Communion (Id., 1668-1672, p. 39). Whether the charge was true or false, we do not know, but it evidently convinced Francis that he would be happier elsewhere. In a few months he was ready to leave, as the following shows: "Mar. 18, 1668/9. To all christian people, I Francis Doughty for good will, naturall affection & love that I beare unto my well beloved wife Ann² Doughty and in consideration that I the sd. Francis am shortly intended God willing to transport myself out of this colony of Va. into some other colony and climate that may prove more favorable to my aged infirm & decaying body than the sd. Colony of Va. wherein I now reside doth, and for that my wife the sd. Ann² is unwilling to depart the sd. country finding the same best agreeing with her health besides her loathness and unwillingness to bid farewell to her most dear and beloved children and to her beloved kindred and relatives all or at least most of them residing in the sd. Colony of Va. and in the neighboring Colony of Md." give 200 acres adjoining the estate of Alex. Fleming to Richard Broughton of Charles Co., Md., to use for the benefit of the sd. Ann² during her life and at her death to the use and behoof of sd. Richard. Wit.: John Catlett, Thos. Hawkins (Id., 1668-1672, p. 119). Richard Broughton gave bond to Francis for 30,000 lbs. tobacco to indemnify him against any claim of the sd. Ann² to this land. (Id., p. 128).

Francis, in 1666, had entered into an agreement with Enoch, who seems to have been his father's mainstay, to manage for him the plantation "on which the sd. Francis now liveth," but reserving the house "in which he now liveth and studieth." (Id., p. 43). Enoch died in 1677 (Id., 1677-1682, p. 32) and in his will requested "my overseers Francis Doughty and Jas. Phillips to sell all my lands and property and pay the proceeds to my children whom I desire to go out of this country." The note added after the will was signed, beginning, "Memd. Sixteen hogsheds of tobacco that my brother carried to England," inclines us to the belief that Francis, the parish vestryman, the overseer of Enoch's will, and the person appearing up to 1685 in Rappahannock Records, are all one and the same, viz., the eldest son of Francis the sturdy old minister.

But what of Ann²? With this demure acceptance of the provision Francis made for her, she drops from sight: "I, Ann² Doughty, wife of Mr. Francis Doughty, Sen., do confess and acknowledge that this deed of trust for my use and benefit was procured by my motion and sealed and delivered by my free and voluntary consent, and I do gratefully accept it from my said husband in lieu of any and all dowers, portions, debts and demands which I, the sd. Ann² may have or claim of or from my sd. husband, my heirs, exors., admrs. or assignees, and do accordingly rest satisfied, and desire that this my acknowledgement be set on record as my satisfaction for all rights & claims by virtue of marriage excepting a deed of gift of certain goods expressed in a list dated Mar. 18, 1668/9 and a penal bond of £20 yearly for the payment of £6 yearly." (Signed) Ann² Doughty. Mar. 18, 1668/9. (Id., 1668-1672, p. 126).

In Winthrop's History which has furnished us many facts, under the heading, "Addenda," vol. 2, p. 342, is found this: "Mr. Thos. Graves, a member of Dorchester and a very understanding man would needs leave the church and go to Va. against all counsel. * * * He and his wife and divers of his children died and his whole family was ruined about a year after. Only one daughter escaped who being left a maid with a good estate married after to that apostate Nathaniel Eaton who having spent all she had fled away and left her miserable. 1646." That Ann² Graves was a widow and not a maid when she married Nathaniel Eaton has been proved, and we have Francis Doughty's own statement that she had kinspeople in Va. and was not alone. We conclude, therefore, that Winthrop was correct in making her the daughter of a Thomas Graves, but wrong in identifying her father with the Mass. emigrant. The writer acknowledges her indebtedness to Mrs. L. C. Bulkley, of Shreveport, La., who first gave her the suggestion that Nathaniel Eaton's wife was the daughter of Capt. Thos.¹ Graves rather than of Thos. Graves of Dorchester, Mass.

In conclusion, the close ties between New England and the Eastern Shore of Va. are apparent in a cursory search, and one feels many more connections could be established were thorough investigation undertaken.

After the migration of the Quakers to the plains of the Middle West and the shift of the population from country to city the old meeting house was abandoned, though sometimes as many as 100 people would gather in it for worship as late as 1888. In 1894 it was reported to the Cedar Creek Monthly Meeting, then meeting in Richmond, as being deserted and "the doors and windows are left open." Attempts were made to sell it and it was finally disposed of to Dr. Thomas Stanley of Montpelier for $100. Shortly afterwards it was burned in a forest fire. Later the bricks were hauled off; though, I am unable to determine what became of them. Today the site is owned by the Stanleys and only the ruined trench of the foundation is visible.

In closing may I call attention to the fact that many contend that the church which was burned in 1904 was the same as that erected in 1770. After a careful examination of the written records, other writings of historians on the subject and the actual site of the church itself I am inclined to believe that this church, which was burned, was the 1770 church restored and enlarged; for nothing is more evident than the fact that the orders of the Quarterly Meeting in 1768 were not carried out to the letter. Only in this way can the former brick church and its disappearance both from the site and from the record be accounted for.

The old Cedar Creek Monthly Meeting, whose headquarters were for so long here, still continues to function. It celebrated its 200th year of continuous existence in March of this year 1939. It now is known as the Richmond Monthly Meeting, the name being officially changed in 1875. All of its meetings are now held in the city of Richmond.

THREE RECTORS OF HUNGAR'S PARISH AND THEIR WIFE—ADDENDA

By MRS. P. W. HIDEN

In the January, 1939, issue, the writer gave some account of Ann² Graves who married successively three rectors of Hungar's Parish. Since then, through the kindness of Major J. B. C. Nicklin of Chattanooga, Tennessee, Mr. J. Emerson Miller of Louisville, Kentucky, and Mr. George H. S. King, of Fredericksburg, Virginia, much fascinating new material is herein presented, with gratitude to the donors.

First, Major Nicklin corrects the statement that Governor William Stone was a son of Captain John Stone; they were brothers (see "The Stones of Poynton Manor" by Harry Wright Newman, page 5, and references there cited). Next, the name Richard Boughton should be Boughton.

Virilinda³ Cotton, daughter of Ann² Graves's first marriage, married (1) Thomas Burdett of Accomack County, who died in Charles County, Maryland, about February 1666 (Maryland Test Proceedings, vol. 2, page 304). By this marriage there were four daughters as shown by the following deed of gift (Charles County Records D. B. C-1, page 271) "Virilinda³ Burdett of Charles County, sole adm^{trix} of all the personal estate of her late husband, Thomas Burdett, for and in consideration of the mutual affection that I bear towards my dear children, Elizabeth⁴ Burdett, Frances⁴ Burdett, Parthenia⁴ Burdett, Sarah⁴ Burdett do grant before a marriage intended to be consummated between me and Richard Boughton to my beloved brethren Samuel³ Eaton and Nathaniel³ Eaton in trust for the use of my said children all right, title and interest in my said husband's personal estate and land devised by dec'd. husband containing 1000 acres and called, part of it 'Burdett's Rest,' and part 'Burdett's Mast'. June 20, 1668. Witnesses: Gerard Fowke, Richard Boughton." Of these four daughters, Parthenia⁴ died unmarried, her will dated 17 February 1697 and probated March 30, 1697, is in Charles County Records. Elizabeth⁴ married (1) John Hamilton, (2) 1683 Richard Hamilton. Sarah⁴ married on December 31, 1686, Colonel Gerard Fowke. Frances⁴ probably married Colonel Charles Ashton of Westmoreland County, Virginia, since in 1725 "Burdett's Rest" patented March 17, 1662/3 by Thomas Burdett was owned by Roger³ son of Colonel Gerard Fowke and his wife Sarah⁴ Burdett, nee Burdett Ashton of Westmoreland. The children of Virilinda³ second marriage are named in her mother's will (see p. 297).

Samuel³ Eaton, one of the two known children of Ann² Graves's second marriage died in Charles County about April 1681, apparently unmarried. We have no knowledge of his brother, Nathaniel³.

With reference to Ann's² third marriage, which occurred during the life time of her second husband, it is possible that her petition to the Aldermen of Exeter in 1650 may have been to secure a legal separation or that, when she married Francis Doughty, she thought Eaton already dead. It must have been to Eaton's interest for people in Massachusetts and Virginia to think him dead, since he was certainly a fugitive from justice in the former state, and presumably so in the latter.

After leaving Rappahannock County, Ann² seems to have made her home in Charles County, Maryland, near her children. From a deposition (Charles County Court Proceedings, 1662-1666, page 281) she was born about 1620, and was likely a little older than her brother, Francis² Graves. Her will (Will Book 4, page 210, Hall of Records, Annapolis, Maryland) dated December 26, 1682, proved July 18, 1683, is as follows: "To grandchild Samuel⁴ Boughton the tract of land lying between Potomac River and the dwelling plantation of Samuel³ Eaton, my decd. son called 'Eaton's Delight,' containing 200 acres given by the will of sd Samuel³ dated October 17, 1679. To Samuel⁴ Boughton, Virilinda⁴ Boughton, Katherine⁴ Boughton and Mary⁴ Boughton, the four children of Richard Boughton, my horses and mares running in the woods, equally at time of age or day of marriage. To Sarah Doyne, the daughter of Robert Doyne, 1000 lbs. tobacco, it to be paid to Colonel William Chandler by John Hamilton out of his rent of 2000 lbs. Tobacco for the lease of the land; also to above Sarah a gold ring and a necklace. To Colonel William Chandler, and if he die to his brother Richard Chandler for the use of my grandchildren, Parthania⁴ Burdett, ex^{tra} and Sarah⁴ Burdett, ex^{tra} all the remainder of my estate, both real and personal equally. Witnesses: John Stone, John Hamilton, Nicholas Swinburne."

The grandson, Samuel⁴ Boughton named in the above will, died about 1714 in Charles County. His inventory dated June 29, 1714, and witnessed by Thomas Dent and Matthew Stone names the nearest of kin as Katherine⁴ Thomas⁴ and Virilinda⁴ Boughton.

Despite Francis Doughty's avowed intention of leaving Virginia, the following deed from Old Rappahannock Records 1682-88, page 138 (Virginia State Library) seems to imply that he did not do so but died in Virginia about the same time that Ann² died in Maryland, March 2, 1683/4. Deed between Richard Boughton of Charles County in the Province of Maryland, Gentleman, and William Berry of Rappahannock County, Planter, whereas Francis Doughty, Senior, formerly of Rappahannock River in the Colony of Virginia, Clerk, dec'd, by his deed of grant bearing date 18 March 1668, did for the consideration mentioned grant unto Richard Boughton by the name of Richard Boughton of Charles County, Maryland, and unto his assigns 200 acres on Rappahannock River adjoining the land of Captain Alexander Fleming dec'd. to have and to hold . . . to the sd. Richard Boughton his heirs and assigns . . . to the use and behoof of the sd. Ann² Doughty my wife during her natural life and in full recompense of her dower and title of dower which the said Ann² shall or may have of or to the lands etc. of me the sd. Francis Doughty and after the decease of said Ann to the use and behoof of the sd. Recorded November 5, 1684." In the same volume, page 245, May 5, 1686, William Berry and wife Margaret sold this land, reciting that it was land purchased in 1662 by Francis Doughty, Margaret's grandfather and by him given to Enoch Doughty her father. The purchaser was Thomas Swinburne, probably some relative of the Nicholas who had witnessed Ann² Doughty's will in Charles County.

The above brief notes show that Ann² Graves with eight known grandchildren has certainly many present day descendants who can feel tenderly towards their tried and patient ancestress.

THE STONES OF POYNTON MANOR

THE Stone family of Poynton Manor is one of the most widely known and at the same time one of the most distinguished colonial families of America whose members from Captain William Stone, Gent., the progenitor and Third Governor of the Province of Maryland, down to the post Civil War period were continuously in the public eye. The Stone family, however, was not distinctive of Maryland, for records show that settlers bearing the name migrated to nearly all of the Thirteen Colonies, particularly to New England where they were strongly entrenched, and to a less degree in Pennsylvania, Virginia, and North Carolina. Nor were the Stones of Poynton Manor the only family in Maryland. There is proof of early Stone settlers on the Eastern Shore as well as in Calvert, Baltimore, and St. Mary's counties of the Western Shore where descendants still bearing that name are living today. The family of St. Mary's County whose younger members also settled in Charles County was of the Roman Catholic faith and therefore is not believed to be closely connected with the family propagated by Governor William Stone.

The English ancestry of the Stones of Poynton Manor fortunately is more connected and authentic than most colonial families, for experience has shown that it is extremely difficult to prove conclusively with documentary evidence the British parents of our American families.

Facts and circumstances lead to one William Stone, of Twiston, Lancashire, and we are indebted to his grandson, Thomas Stone, Merchant, of London, whose lineage for third generations was recorded in the Visitation of London. The visitation was made in the seventeenth century by an official representative of the College of Arms to examine the rights of the subjects of London to bear arms, and printed in 1883 by the Harleian Society of England from the original manuscript deposited in the British Museum.

The Stone arms as originally granted to the family of Lancashire and reproduced in this volume is described as follows "per pale or and sable a lion rampant count^r recharged". The arms used by Thomas Stone, of London, in 1647, and also that of his brother Andrew show various quarterings, particularly the Brinkleton and Girdler families.

WILLIAM STONE DE TWISTE

ABOUT the time that Christopher Columbus was sailing the seas in the quest of a new route to the East, there was born in northern England one William Stone. Whether he was born in the Parish of Twiston, Lancashire, is a matter of conjecture, but anyhow it was in this quaint parish a few miles from the borderlands of Yorkshire that he reigned as the lord of his domain and raised a family of sons and daughters. The parish is about four and one-half miles east of Clitheroe, Yorkshire, and therefore lies in the hilly districts of Lancashire which to this day have remained untouched and unspoiled from its fifteenth century loveliness.

The church or parish records for that period have not been preserved nor unearthed, so little or no knowledge exists of his birth, death, and the baptisms of his children. But we are indebted to the Visitation of London for his existence and for the fact that he married Elizabeth, daughter to John Bradley, of Bradley, Lancashire. He was probably a country squire and a scion of the house which gave the town of Bradley to the county. It was perhaps the present Bradley Fold about three miles east of Bolton in the southern portion of the county.

There are no indications of any connections with a noble nor even a knightly house of either the Stone or Bradley clans, but it can be rightfully assumed that William Stone and his family maintained a respectable, if not prominent, position among the landed gentry of Lancaster. From the visitation we learn of one son—Richard.

RICHARD STONE DE CROSTON

(c 1540 - 15—)

Richard, son of William and Elizabeth (Bradley) Stone, was born perhaps in the Parish of Twiston, Lancashire, about the year 1540. He married Isabel, the daughter of John Girdler, of Carr House Parish, West Riding, Doncaster, Yorkshire. The marriage is recorded in Latin on the old parchment register of the Parish of Croston as of 12 January 1572. The fact that the Stones of this period did not marry into families within their immediate parish and allied themselves with houses of neighboring counties indicates that they were by no means a provincial family but visited and traveled in other parts of the Kingdom.

Richard Stone established his seat in the Parish of Croston, Lancashire, which lay in the western portion of the county and where other members of the Stone family had been seated since a date prior to 1544.

From the Visitation of London we obtain a complete list of his children.

JOHN AND MATTHEW STONE, OF HOOLE

John Stone, son of Richard and Isabel (Girdler) Stone, was born about the year 1575 presumably in the Parish of Croston, Lancashire, yet his baptism is not recorded in the parish register. The parish is about six and one-half miles southwest of the town of Preston and originally consisted of the townships of Croston, Chorley, Hoole, Rufford, Tarleton, Hesketh, Becconsall, Bispham, Bretheren, Mawdsley, and Ulnes Walton. The parish church dates from the twelfth century. In 1633 according to Baines' History of Lancaster, John Stone, of Carr House in the Parish of Much Hoole was a benefactor to the church. The township of Hoole, however, was separated from the mother parish in 1641 and became an independent unit.

According to tradition, this John Stone, son of Richard, was the father of Governor Stone, of Maryland. It is manifestly admitted, however, that it has been difficult to establish the parents of the Governor with the sources available on this side of the Atlantic. No facts have been unearthed to prove this tradition, but it is known and established that Governor William Stone was the nephew of Thomas Stone, Merchant, of London, and therefore he was a grandson of Richard Stone, of Croston.

In 1647 Thomas Stone, Haberdasher, of Cateaton Street, London, whose pedigree is established through the Visitation of London, granted power of attorney to his cousin (nephew) Captain William Stone, of Accomac County, Virginia. At the same visitation is shown the ancestry of Andrew Stone, a brother to the haberdasher. Furthermore, the brothers and sisters of the Governor who have been proved have names similar to those recorded in the Parish of Croston—Matthew and Andrew being the two most common.

The visitation proves that Richard Stone, of Croston, had a son Matthew who was probably the one baptized on April 28, 1583. The marriage of Matthew Stone is not found in Croston Parish nor are there any records of his children being baptized there. The birth of Governor Stone is generally placed as the year 1603 and in Northamptonshire. But it may be more than coincidence that a William Stone, the son of Matthew and Joan Stone, was born in 1604 and baptized during May 1605 in the Parish of Bridgewater in the Diocese of Wells, Somerset.

Somerset does not border Lancashire, in fact it is quite a distance from the latter, but it was not uncommon for the gentry to move about in those days, and we have seen that two of the sons of Richard Stone, of Croston, settled in London. It is noted that Governor Stone had a brother Matthew who came to Maryland, and also that the Governor had a son Matthew. John Stone, the traditional father of the Governor, may be correct, but on the face of the present research it is highly probable that the baptism of the above William may be none other than that of the Maryland emigrant.

*Brothers and Sisters of Governor Stone

1. Catherine Stone married Thomas Sprigg, of Calvert Co.
2. John Stone, died Accomac Co., prior to 1634.
3. Richard Stone.
4. Matthew Stone, of Maryland. q.v.
5. Andrew Stone, transported into Virginia by brother William.

John Stone of Accomac County upon whose estate the Rev. William Cotton administered is believed to be a brother of the Governor. In a letter dated 1644, signed by Weston and written to Governor Stone, Weston mentions a parcel of tobacco which "your brother Mr John Stone had of me many past". Thus, it is proved that the Governor had a brother John who came to America. John Stone, however, was dead by 1634, for the administrator of his estate, the Rev. Cotton, brother-in-law of Governor Stone, acknowledged to the court that no tithes had been paid by the estate of John Stone, deceased.

MATTHEW STONE

(16— - 1672)

Matthew Stone, brother to the Governor, likewise settled first on the Eastern Shore of Virginia but did not come into Maryland until a date later than that of his brother. During March 1651 in Northampton County, Virginia, he signed a document in which he promised to "bee true and faithful to the Commonwealth of England as it is nowe Established without Kinge or House of Lords". Thus we find him a member of the Puritan Party, if not, he lacked the courage to espouse the cause of the Cavaliers.

*Note: It is sometimes said that Anne, born 1622, who married Nathaniel Eaton and in 1657 married Francis Doughty, of Accomac County, and who in 1662 during a law suit named Elizabeth (Stone) Calvert as her cousin, was a sister to Governor Stone. The word "cousin" signified merely kinswoman, for it is proved that the Rev. Nathaniel Eaton by 1642 had married Anne, the widow of the Rev. William Cotton. She was therefore born Anne Graves whom William Cotton transported into Virginia and whom he acknowledged as his wife in 1637.

Matthew Stone ultimately settled in Calvert County, Maryland, where he died in 1672 after making a nuncupative will. He named no heirs of his body, but bequeathed personalty to John Fernly of Francis, and Elizabeth Cornahill, naming Jonathan Marler and William Marshall Sr., as the executors. Under the English law only personal property could be bequeathed by a nuncupative will, and the fact that he named no children is not conclusive that he died without issue. The nuncupative will of Governor Leonard Calvert is an outstanding example.

On January 29, 1695, Matthew Stone, of Charles County, stated in court that he was 42 years of age and that he was acquainted with John Ward, late of Charles County, deceased. The birth of Matthew was therefore about 1653, and he can not possibly be a son or grandson of Governor Stone. It is probable that the Stones of Calvert County who appear towards the latter part of the seventeenth century are descendants of Matthew Stone, brother to the Governor.

Since publication the long-accepted belief that the wife of Governor Stone was Verlinda Cotton has been disproved and she is now placed as Verlinda Graves.

The birth of William Stone, as noted previously, is stated as the year 1603, and several localities have been cited—sometimes Lancaster and sometimes Northampton—but in no instance have authorities been quoted for these statements. No tradition has been handed down concerning his maternal parentage, but the naming of his seat Poynton Manor may be significant.

Early in the 1600s families of Stone and Poynton were domiciled in Derbyshire which nearly borders Lancashire to the southeast. And it is not improbable that his mother was of this family and that the naming of his estate was in commemoration of her family. Then there is the town of Poynton lying in the Parish of Poynton-with-Worth in County Chester which actually borders Lancashire on the south.

The earliest known date of William Stone being in America is 1633, when he was seated on Hungar's Creek in Accomac County, Eastern Shore of Virginia. On June 4, 1635, he was granted by the Virginia authorities 1,800 acres of land "beginning at the blunt point between Hungers Creek and Mattawomens, westwardly on the bay, eastwardly towards the pyne swampe takeing in the Clapboard quarter, due him for his own personal adventure and that of his brother Andrew and for the transportation of 34 indentured servants"—the names of all 34 servants are recorded at the Virginia Land Office.

William Stone married Verlinda, the daughter of Jane Cotton who had come, according to tradition, to Virginia as a widow from Bunbury, Cheshire, England, and joined her son, the Rev. William Cotton, rector of the Lower Parish of Accomac. Peculiarly, Jane Cotton did not claim rights to land for her migration nor is there any record of any one claiming land for her transportation and that of her daughter.

On July 10, 1637, however, William Cotton, Clerke, was granted 350 acres of land called the "Old Man's Neck" between the two main branches of Hungars Creek eastwardly unto the woods, westwardly down the creek and north to the land of Captain William Stone. One hundred acres were for his own and the personal adventure of his wife Anne Graves, and 250 acres for the transporting of five persons.*

*His daughter, Verlinda Cotton, married Thomas Burdett and Richard Broughton, and settled in Charles County.

From the above warrant it is learned that the plantation of William Stone adjoined that of William Cotton, and that Stone in that year was styled captain. Other neighbors of Captain Stone were David Winley, Richard Smith, Thomas Smith, William Jones, and Nathaniel Eaton.

Children of William and Verlinda (Cotton) Stone

1. Elizabeth Stone married William, son of Leonard Calvert, and grandson of George, First Baron of Baltimore. Issue: Charles; George; Richard; Elizabeth; and William.
2. Thomas Stone married Mary ———. q.v.
3. Richard Stone, d.s.p. 1667. John Stone, adm. Nathaniel Eaton and Samuel Eaton were ordered to appraise estate. Walter King, of Bristol, Eng., appeared at court 1668, and entered "davat" against estate for 6,300 lbs. tobacco.
4. John Stone married thrice. q.v.
5. Matthew Stone married Margarey ———, d.s.p. 1676, naming wife; widow married before 1678 Edward Maddock and settled in Stafford Co., Va.
6. Mary Stone married ——— Doyne.
7. Catherine Stone.

The appointment of William Stone as Third Proprietary Governor of Maryland was believed to be a definite political gesture, inasmuch as facts now prove that Lord Baltimore at that time desired a Protestant governor for his Province in order to appease the many enemies which his Palatinate had made in Protestant Parliament. Although Stone was a member of the Established Church, it is now known that he had many nonconformist connections and sympathies.

William Stone accepted the governorship and consequently moved from his seat in Virginia to Maryland, bringing with him a young family, a number of transportees, and numerous servants. He subsequently applied of His Lordship for a warrant of land for transporting himself into the Province, his wife, and the following children—Thomas, Richard, John, and Elizabeth; his servants Hugh Treak, Alexander Watts, Nicholas Holmes, Auth Palmer, William Hawkins, Michael Pace, Anne Taylor, William Watts all in the year 1648—also Thomas Burdett, and the following servants—John Scott, James Lees, Mark Livesay, Edward Cook, Francis Walton, Elizabeth Parry, Katheren Selby, Elizabeth Price, William Wilkes, Thomas Griffin, and others, also four negroes, a Turk, and an Indian in the years 1649 and 1650.

On October 19, 1653, William Stone received a warrant for land which was surveyed and issued under the name of "Poynton Manor", lying on the north side of Avon Creek in Nanjemoy Hundred in the western portion of Charles County. His early life in the Province, however, was spent at his town house in St. Mary's City, but after his tenure of office he settled on his manor where it is believed he is interred.

The public life of Stone as governor, his responsibility for bringing a group of Puritans from Virginia to settle on the Severn, his conflict with Clayborne at the battle of the Severn on March 25, 1655, when he was taken prisoner, condemned to be shot, and then saved by his Puritan friends are all facts that can best be ascertained from a history of Maryland, so therefore this episode deals more closely with his intimate life for genealogical purposes.

Before returning to his seat at Poynton Manor, Stone instituted an action of debt against Thomas Weston, Lord of Westbury Manor, lying in St. George's Hundred, St. Mary's County, and by virtue of writ he came into possession of the entire manor of 1,250 acres. Later Governor Stone conveyed a portion of it to the Rev. William Wilkinson, the first Anglican clergyman in Maryland.

The will of William Stone was dated December 3, 1659, and proved on December 21, 1660, in Charles County, by Francis Doughty, Stephen Montague, and Stephen Clifton. He named as overseers of his estate and the guardians of his minor children Governor Josias Fendall, his brother-in-law Francis Doughty, and his "natural" brother Matthew Stone.

Verlinda, his wife, was devised the town house and land at St. Mary's, but she was to remain at the dwelling-plantation at Nanjemoy during widowhood. Elizabeth, described as the eldest daughter, received 900 acres of land at Bustard's Island in the Patuxent, where his son, Thomas, was then residing, and 600 acres of land at Nanjemoy, but the property that had already been placed in trust for her through his "brother Sprigg" was declared ineffective.*

Richard was devised 500 acres of Nanjemoy Manor and cattle in consideration of that formerly given him by his uncle Richard Stone. John and Mathew were each willed 500 acres of Nanjemoy. Thomas received the residue of the realty.

After the death of Governor Stone, William Calvert, son of the late Governor Leonard Calvert, through his guardian the Lord Proprietor brought action against Verlinda Stone, relict and late wife of Captain William Stone deceased, in a case of trespass. The suit developed over the purchase of the town house of Leonard Calvert by Stone from the former's executrix, Mistress Margaret Brent. The Calverts won the case.

*Note: The fact that he refers to Sprigg as his brother has sometimes led to the belief that his wife was Verlinda Sprigg instead of Verlinda Cotton. The former fact may be correct, but it is generally believed that Thomas Sprigg married the sister of Governor Stone and therefore became a brother-in-law in this manner.

In 1672 Verlinda Stone instituted action in the High Court of Chancery against Edmond Lindsey for unlawfully detaining her servant Henry Dorman.

The will of Verlinda Stone was proved in Charles County on July 15, 1675, by Margaret Baghay, Barbara Kendall, and Anne Roughey. She devised Benoni Thomas and his heirs the tract "St. Verlinda" of 400 acres, but it was to be held by her son John Stone until Benoni arrived at the age of 21 years.* Certain articles of personalty were left to her daughter Mrs. Doyne. The residue of the estate was bequeathed to her son John.

The court subsequently ordered Robert Doyne and Matthew Stone to appraise the estate, and Benjamin Rozer, Gent., to take the oath of John Stone, Gent., the executor.

THOMAS STONE, GENT.²

Thomas Stone, eldest son of Governor William Stone and Verlinda Cotton his wife, was born about the year 1635 in Accomac County, Virginia. His youth was spent in that county, and as a young man he accompanied his parents to Maryland. By 1663 he had married Mary ———, presumably a Maryland maiden, but whose patrimony remains unestablished to this day.

Children of Thomas and Mary Stone

1. Richard Stone, no further record.
2. William Stone married Theodosia Wade. q.v.

On July 15, 1651, there was surveyed for Thomas Stone 350 acres of land known by the name of "St. Leonard's", lying at the mouth of St. Leonard's Creek, which on September 9, 1663, he and his wife conveyed to Richard Smith, of Calvert County, the same being held by Richard Smith as late as 1707. At the time of his father's death in 1660 Thomas Stone was domiciled at Bustard's Island in the Patuxent, but he later established his seat at "Poynton Manor" in Nanjemoy Hundred.

The warrant for "Poynton Manor" named 4,000 acres, but later by a resurvey it was found to contain 5,000 acres. The augmented share of *Note: It is also said that Benoni Thomas was a grandson of Verlinda Stone, being the son of Mrs. Doyne by a former marriage.

Thomas Stone was 1,460 acres, thereupon, he assigned 100 acres to Henry Frankon, 300 acres to Francis Thornton and Thomas Bayly, and 300 acres to John Cabell.

On February 2, 1663, Thomas Stone conveyed to Henry Hyde a portion of "Westbury Manor", formerly belonging to Thomas Weston, and the next year a 200-acre portion to Henry Banister. On May 28, 1667, Thomas Stone and Mary his wife, of Poynton Manor, deeded to John Stone, Gent., 500 acres of "Nanjemoy" for 20,000 pounds of tobacco.

In 1661 Thomas Stone was appointed a commissioner of Charles County, with Henry Adams, James Lindsey, Thomas Baker, Francis Pope, William Marshall, Walter Beane, and Joseph Harrison, Gent. In 1663 he appointed William Calvert his attorney and described him as "brother."

The will of Thomas Stone was negotiated in Charles County on April 24, 1676, and admitted to probate on October 5, 1676, by John and Elizabeth Stone. The entire estate was to be held in trust by his widow, Mary, until his two sons arrived at the age of 18 years. Richard was to inherit the plantation then leased by Simon Stevens and a portion of "Poynton Manor," while William was to receive the residue of the lands including the parental dwelling.

Within a few months after her husband's death, the widow married John Blackfan. Her second matrimonial adventure was brief, for "John Blackfan of Nanjemoy" dated his will January 31, 1677, which was proved on March 12, 1677, by Samuel Eaton and Robert Polts. He named a brother and sisters Mary and Elizabeth, and bequeathed property to his step-sons William and Richard Stone, providing no posthumous child was born to his widow. The residue of the estate was devised to his wife Mary, whom he named as executrix.

At the September 1677 court, the sheriff issued citations to "Mary Blackfan the relict of Thomas Stone and the executrix of John Blackfan" who had been the executor of Richard Owens.

His widow married thirdly Joseph Manning. She predeceased her last husband, but is believed to have become the mother of his children as there is no knowledge of a previous marriage. Joseph Manning died in 1717 and named his daughter, Esther the wife of Thomas Matthews, and his son John Manning. In 1718/19, John Manning of Charles County by will named Matthew Stone and Thomas Stone Jr. as overseers of his estate. The will, however, was not proved until 1735.

JOHN STONE, GENT. ²

John Stone, son of William and Verlinda (Cotton) Stone, was born in Accomac County, Virginia, and was brought to Maryland by his parents in 1648. Circumstances point to the fact that he had three wives, the first one being Elizabeth ———, who is sometime believed to be the daughter of Thomas Warren who died in 1684. John Stone with his wife Elizabeth was present at the negotiation of his brother's will in 1676.

To this union was born two sons, inasmuch as a subsequent deed states that Thomas was the only brother of John of the "whole blood". Matthew was therefore of another marriage. The children of the third union are proved by the fact that his widow was made the guardian of "her" children as well as the executrix of their estates.

2. John Stone, d.s.p. 1703, naming bros. Matthew and Thomas; and Anne Bayne and Anne Fowke (no stated relationship).
3. Matthew Stone married Rachel Smoot. q.v.

Prior to 1684 John Stone married thirdly Eleanor, the daughter of Walter and Eleanor Bayne. The latter by her will, proved in Charles County during 1701, named as heirs Eleanor Stone and Elizabeth Stone who are identified as granddaughters.

John Stone was deeded by his brother, Richard, in 1664 for natural love and affections 500 acres of land on the east side of the Chesapeake Bay on the south side of the Sassafra River. The deed was witnessed by Thomas Manning, Thomas Sprigg, and Humphrey Warren.

On June 11, 1667, John Stone, Gent., appeared at the Perogative Court and took the oath before Charles Calvert as administrator of the estate of his deceased brother, Richard Stone, Gent.

On March 2, 1668, a warrant was issued to John Stone and his brother Thomas to appraise the estate of Thomas Burdit, deceased, late of Charles County. Verlinda Burdit, the relict, was granted letters of administration, and her oath was duly recorded before Joseph Harrison, Gent. A return of the inventory was made on May 14, 1668, at which time it showed that Josias Lambert was an appraiser in Stone.

As early as 1670 John Stone was Gentleman Justice in Charles County; in 1682 he signed a petition as one of Protestant subjects. During 1687 he was again a comm peace, and from 1678 to 1688 he represented his county Assembly.¹ He was a member of the commission for the advancement of trade in the Province, and in 1689 he was on the committee to regulate civil affairs in Charles County. Another public office, though minor, was coroner of Charles County in 1678.

The will of John Stone was dated September 17, 1697, and was proved in Charles County on August 10, 1698, by the testimony of Joseph Manning, Philip Briscoe, and Notley Warren. His widow, Eleanor, and his son, Thomas, were named as executors. The latter was to administer upon his own estate and that of his two brothers, Matthew and John, while his widow was to administer upon her own estate and that of her children.

Thomas and Walter received equally the dwelling-plantation, a 500-acre portion of "Poynton Manor", and 80 acres of "St. John's" adjoining. Walter was to have the portion of "Poynton Manor" whereon stood the homestead after the decease of his mother.

Matthew and John were devised "Mangawoman" of 500 acres. Eleanor and Elizabeth were devised 400 acres of "Durwin". His widow received one-third of the personal estate. The overseers were Captain John Bayne, Major William Dent, Gerard Fowke, and William Stone.

At a subsequent account by his widow and executrix mention is made of "seven" children. His widow married subsequently Hugh Tears. The latter in his will of 1699 named his wife, Eleanor, as well as Eleanor and Elizabeth Stone. The widow married thirdly on June 22, 1700, John Beall or Beale.

WILLIAM STONE ³
(1666 - 1730)

William Stone, son of Thomas and Mary, was born perhaps at "Poynton Manor", Nanjemoy Hundred, Charles County, Maryland, about the year 1666—he stated his age as 55 in 1721 and as 60 in 1726, according to court depositions. He married Theodosia, the daughter of Zachary Wade of Piscataway Creek. The latter died during 1677 and devised his

8. Richard Stone, d.s.p.

In 1696 William Stone was listed as one of the civil officers of Charles County. In 1707 he was granted license as a practitioner of law in the county courts, and from 1707 to 1710 he represented his hundred at the General Assembly.² At one time he was a bondsman for Benjamin Fendall, of Charles County, and at another time for George Jones, of Prince George County. In 1713 he was surety for Esther Chapman, the administratrix of the estate of Edward Chapman.

The will of William Stone was proved in Charles County during 1739, by William Mansell, John Boye, and James Murdock. Thomas Stone, described as the eldest son, was devised the lands adjoining those of "cousin David Stone" and Gerard Fowke. Mary received the plantation where she and her husband, Thomas Matthews, were then living, adjoining the lands of "cousin Matthew Stone" and Robert Doyme, and one-half of "O'Neal's Desert".

The youngest son, Richard, was to have the residue of the dwelling-plantation "Poynton Manor", but the testator's widow was to have the use of it during life. Verlinda Harrison was devised 100 acres of "Dover's Clifts". Theodosia Stone received the other half of "O'Neal's Desert" and a portion of "Market Overton" at Pomomkey. Precious Jones was devised "Milner" of 300 acres and "Langham's Rest" of 113 acres in Prince Georges County. Bethia Barnes, the youngest daughter, was willed "Stone's Rest" of 143 acres, and one-half of "Market Overton".

The widow, Theodosia, was to enjoy certain personalty during life, then they were to be divided among all children. She was obliged to make over "Market Overton" to her daughters, Theodosia and Bethia, before her death or remarriage. In the event that Thomas interfered, then the lands on which "his brother William lived shall pass to Theodosia and Bethia".

The inventory of his personal estate was appraised on November 10, 1731, with John Manning and Matthew Stone as the kinsmen, and Theodosia Stone, Thomas Stone, and Richard Stone as the executors. The final account was rendered to the court on August 31, 1732, at which time it was noted that all the representatives were of legal age.

Theodosia Stone, his widow, on November 14, 1732, conveyed to Robert Gordon, of Prince Georges County, the plantation wherason John Queen lived, lying near Permunkey Creek, being a portion of "Overton" that goeth from Mr. Stoddert's to Piscataway.

His widow, Theodosia Stone, negotiated her will in June 1747, and devised her son, Richard, the portion of "Market Overton" on which Thomas Monroe was then living, and her granddaughter, Mary Barnes, the portion of the same tract wherason Robert Gordon resided. She named her children Thomas, Richard, Mary, and Theodosia—and her granddaughter Theodosia Barnes. The will was proved in Charles County on March 25, 1749, by Barton Stone, Matthew Stone Sr. and Thomas Stone Jr.

On June 17, 1749, Richard Stone, the executor, certified the inventory papers, with Thomas Stone and Mary Matthews signing as the kinsmen.

Richard Stone, bachelor and last surviving child, died intestate in Charles County. An inventory of his estate was taken on October 17, 1782, and appraised at £1,493. John Matthews was the administrator, while Joseph W. Harrison and Mary Barnes signed as the next of kin. The final account and distribution were made the next year to the following heirs, all apparently of the same degree of relationship, inasmuch as each representative received £134/19/11. They were Captain Joseph W. Harrison, Elizabeth Mastin, Theodosia Short, Mary Grant, Henrietta Speake, Mary Stone, Baldwin Dade and Verlinda his wife, John B. Meeke and Verlinda his wife, Robert Taylor and Theodosia his wife, Walter McPherson and Mary his wife, Mary Barnes, and John Matthews.

CAPTAIN THOMAS STONE³

(1677 - 1727)

Thomas Stone, son of John and Elizabeth Stone, was born in Charles County during 1677, according to a deposition made in 1721. He married first Martha, the daughter of Colonel Philip Hoskins. The latter died in 1714, and besides appointing Thomas Stone as the overseer of his estate, he named as heirs his grandson Thomas Stone and daughter Martha Stone. Oswald Hoskins, son of Colonel Philip Hoskins, died in 1721 and named by will his brother-in-law Thomas Stone as the overseer of his estate, and at the same time mentioned his sister Martha Stone.

The following list of children has been proved, but the fact that he named only two children in his will and referred to other children makes it difficult to establish an absolute list.

Children of Thomas and Martha (Hoskins) Stone

1. Thomas Stone.
2. David Stone married twice. q.v.
3. Anne Stone, died 1761, married Roger, son of Gerard Fowke.
Issue: Catherine and Gerard.
4. Mary Stone married William, son of Robert and Mary (Hoskins) Hanson. Issue: Aurelia; William; Theophilus; Samuel; and Jenny Hoskins.

In 1715 he, as Captain Thomas Stone being a member of the Assembly, signed a petition to His Excellency on the death of the Queen and also the petition upon the ascendancy of His Majesty, George I, to the throne.³

Thomas Stone leased to William Thornton, Gent., of King George County, Virginia, 500 acres of land in King George County, which Edward Maddock in his will, proved in Stafford County during 1694, had devised to John Robbins, son of Robert, of Maryland, but in the event that John Robbins died without issue the land was to descend to John Stone, son of John, of Maryland, and his heirs, and inasmuch as both parties died without issue the land descended to Thomas Stone, the present leasor "only brother of the said John of whole blood as heir-at-law".

Thomas Stone after being a widower for several years married Catherine ———, but it is believed that no issue resulted from the union.

Thomas Stone dated his will May 25, 1727, it being proved the following November 7, by the Rev. William MacConchie, Henry Barnes, and Verlinda Boughton. He devised his son David one-half of the dwelling-plantation and personalty. His widow Catherine was to enjoy the other half of the dwelling-plantation during life then to his son David. Certain personalty at her death were to be divided among unnamed children. The residue of the estate was bequeathed to David and Mary.

The inventory of the personal estate of "Thomas Stone Sr." was filed on November 23, 1728, by Catherine Stone as the executrix, with Matthew Stone and William Stone as the kinsmen.

Catherine Stone, whose will was proved in Charles County on February 1, 1750, by John Blackwood and Margaret Smith, is believed to be his widow. She named William Hanson and Gerret Fowke as executors and the following of no stated relationship as her heirs—Anne Fowke; Mary Hanson, the wife of William Hanson; Catherine Fowke, the daughter of Gerret Fowke; Richard Reeder; Gerret Fowke who received 500 acres of "Aquankeek's Hills" near Permunkey; and David Stone, Mary Stone, and Anne Stone, children of David Stone.

MATTHEW STONE, GENT.³

Matthew Stone, son of John, was born about the year 1679, inasmuch as he declared himself to be 55 years of age in 1734. He married Rachel, the daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Barton) Smoot, of William and Mary Parish, Charles County.* In 1714 Rachel Stone was named as a granddaughter in the will of Colonel William Barton, so therefore the marriage occurred prior to that date.

Matthew Stone and Robert Hanson in 1713 were sureties for Mary Theobald, the executrix of the estate of John Theobald, late of Charles County. On May 23, 1726, Matthew Stone, Gent., and Rachel his wife for 6,000 pounds of tobacco conveyed to John Watts land lying on the west side of the main portion of Nanjemoy Creek, situated between the lands of the said Matthew Stone and William Stone. On May 13, 1747, he conveyed for the consideration of natural love and affections which he held for his son Thomas "Jr.", a portion of "Poynton Manor", adjoining the lands of Matthew Stone, Thomas Matthews, and Barton Stone. Rachel Stone, his wife, acknowledged the deed and waived dower.

Matthew Stone dated his will November 7, 1748, at which time he appointed his sons Barton and Thomas as the executors. Rachel his wife was devised the dwelling-plantation during life then equally to his sons Samuel and William. His daughters Anne and Elizabeth were bequeathed various personalty, while Mr. Porteus was appointed the guardian of his young son William. The will was admitted to probate in Charles County on August 10, 1750, and proved by William Hanson, Mary Hanson, and John Jenkins.

Rachel Stone, however, was appointed executrix and certified to the inventory on November 3, 1750, with John Stone and Barton Stone as the kinsmen. Gustavus Brown and Walter Brown were the greatest creditors.

The final statement was rendered to the court on September 14, 1751, when the proceeds were distributed among the widow and the following heirs—Samuel Stone, William Stone, Elizabeth Stone, and Anne Stone. David Stone and John Stone were bondsmen for the widow and executrix.

The will of his widow was dated September 8, 1756, and admitted to probate in Charles County on November 6, 1758, by Maximilian Matthews, John B. Meek, and Jesse Douglas. She appointed her sons, Samuel and William, as executors, and named her daughter, Elizabeth Stone.

On January 15, 1759, an inventory of her personal estate was made with John Stone and Barton Stone as the kinsmen, and Samuel Stone and William Stone, as the executors.

CAPTAIN THOMAS STONE⁴
(1696 - 1771)

Thomas Stone, son of William and Theodosia (Wade) Stone, was born at "Poynton Manor", Durham Parish. As Captain Thomas Stone in 1743 he testified as being 47 years of age and in 1769 as 73 years of age. He married Margaret ———.

Children of Thomas and Margaret Stone

1. Mary Stone, born Jan. 10, 1739, died spinster 1795, named nieces: Mary Stone Jones, Margaret Fowke, Margaret Hanson, and Catherine Meek; and great-nephew Thomas Jones.

2. Verlinda Stone, born Aug. 25, 1740, married James Smith and William Jones. Dau. Mary Stone Smith, born Oct. 12, 1761.
3. Theodosia Stone, born Aug. 9, 1742, married William MacConchie. Children: Lillias, born Feb. 11, 17—; Anne, born Dec. 20, 1764; John, born Dec. 20, 1764; William, born 1767; Margarey.
4. Margarey Stone, born Jan. 9, 1743, married ——— Smith.
5. William Stone, born Aug. 24, 1746, d.s.p.

Thomas Stone negotiated his will on July 27, 1770, and named his wife, Margarey, as executrix and at the same time devised her the dwelling-plantation and one-third of the personal estate during life. To his single daughter, Mary, he willed the land "which my father bequeathed to me where William Mansell formerly lived and which is now in the possession of Barton Stone". He named his daughters, Verlinda Smith and Theodosia MacConchie, and his granddaughters, Lillias MacConchie, Mary Stone Smith, and Margarey Smith. The residue of the estate he willed to his son, William Stone who was also named as executor, and to his daughter, Mary Stone.

On January 4, 1771, he drew up a codicil . . . "Be it known that . . . I gave to my daughter Margarey Smith was because she died before me and I gave her what I desire". The instrument was admitted to probate in Charles County on November 4, 1771, by Richard Barnes and Mathias Ralley.

The inventory of his personal estate was taken on November 20, 1771, and appraised at £1,090/3/3, with William MacConchie and Mary Stone as the kinsmen. His widow, Margarey Stone, certified to the inventory on March 25, 1772 as "the surviving executor".

His widow, Margarey Stone, made her will on January 7, 1773, and named the following heirs: daughters Theodosia MacConchie and Mary Stone; and granddaughters Lillias MacConchie, Mary Stone Smith, and Margarey Smith. She appointed her daughter Mary and son-in-law William MacConchie as the executors. The will was presented for probate in Charles County on June 10, 1773, by Richard Barnes, James York, and James Muncaster.

In 1783 Theophilus Hanson by order of the Land Office resurveyed that portion of "Poynton Manor" which belonged to the heirs of Thomas and Richard Stone and found that the tract contained 1,736 acres instead of the supposedly 1,000. The extra 736 acres were divided among the following "present owners" all heirs of Thomas Stone—William MacConchie 101 acres, William Jones 135 acres, Mary Stone 100 acres, and Margarey Smith 400 acres.

On April 16, 1799, Mary Stone Jones, of Charles County, for £1,000 conveyed to Samuel Jones 468 acres of "Poynton Manor" on which she lived and which she inherited from her grandfather Thomas Stone and his brother Richard Stone through her mother.

DAVID STONE ⁴
(1709 - 1773)

David Stone, son of Thomas, was born during the year 1709 at "Poynton Manor", Charles County, Maryland. It is generally said that he married first Sarah, the daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Story) Hanson. Sarah was born July 29, 1714, at the head of Port Tobacco Creek, according to court records. In research among public documents, however, no data have been unearthed to verify the tradition of this marriage. Sarah died before her parents, and it is noted that her father by his will of 1741 failed to provide for any children of his daughter Sarah, nor did the mother by her will of 1764.

A child by the first marriage of David was given the name of Samuel (q.v.)—and this fact lends only a mere slender thread to the conclusion that his first wife was a daughter of Samuel Hanson, of Littleworth Plantation. It is probable that David Stone had other children by his first marriage, because M^{me}. Catherine Stone in her will of 1750 named David, Mary, and Anne—all children of David Stone—and it is reasonable to assume that at one time or another he named a son David. Inasmuch as David Sr. died intestate and the distribution of his estate fails to show the living representatives, it is not known whether these three children were alive in that year or not.

By 1739 David Stone had become a widower and had married secondly Elizabeth, daughter to Dr. Daniel Jenifer, of Charles County.

2. Thomas Stone married Margaret Brown. q.v.
3. Catherine Stone married Robert Scott, son of James and Sarah (Brown) Scott, of Stafford Co., Va., and grandson of Dr. Gustavus Brown. Issue: Alexander.
4. John Hoskins Stone married Mary Couden. q.v.
5. Daniel Jenifer Stone.
6. Michael Jenifer Stone married Mary Briscoe. q.v.
7. Elizabeth Anne Stone married Townsend Eden.
8. Walter Stone, d.s.p. 1791.
9. Grace Stone, died spinster 1809, naming nieces Mary Anne Stone, Elizabeth Stone, Eleanor Stone, and brother Michael.

David Stone died intestate on March 18, 1773, at the age of 64 years. The inventory of his personal estate was filed on February 26, 1774, and appraised at £1,563/10/10, with Elizabeth Stone, Thomas Stone, and John Hoskins Stone as the administrators and Daniel Jenifer and G. R. Brown as the bondsmen. Catherine Scott and Betsy Anne Stone were the kinswomen.

At the final account in June, 1778, his widow had died, and Thomas Stone and John Hoskins Stone were recorded as the "surviving administrators". The balance of £2,361/19/5 showed no distribution, according to the court records.

The will of his bachelor son, Frederick Stone, was proved in Charles County on May 12, 1773, by G. R. Brown, Zeph Turner, and George Swann. He named his mother, Elizabeth Stone, and the following brothers and sisters—Thomas Stone, Catherine Scott (widow), John Hoskins Stone, Daniel Jenifer Stone, Michael Stone, Betsy Stone, Walter Stone, and Grace Stone.

His bachelor son, Walter, died at Sweet Springs, Botetourt County, Virginia. By his will, proved 1791 in Charles County, he bequeathed his brother, John Hoskins Stone, all shares in the firms of John H. Stone & Co., and John Stone & Walter Stone. He discharged his sister, Betty Anne Eden, from all debts and commissions due him as the administrator of the estates of Townsend Eden and John Eden, Sr. He named his sisters, Catherine Scott and Grace Stone; brother Michael J. Stone; nieces Margaret Stone and Mildred Stone; and nephews Alexander Scott and Frederick Stone.

THOMAS STONE ⁴
(17— - 1758)

Thomas Stone, son of Matthew and Rachel (Smoot) Stone, was born at "Poynton Manor" in Durham Parish, Charles County. He married Margaret ———, and one son—Matthew—was born.

Thomas Stone Jr. negotiated his will on January 19, 1758. He named his wife, Margaret, as the executrix and devised her during widowhood the dwelling-plantation. After her decease or remarriage the estate was to revert to his then minor son, Matthew, and in the event that the latter died without issue then to Samuel Stone, the brother of the testator. The instrument was proved in Charles County on November 6, 1758, by Anne Matthews, William Hanson, and Maximilian Matthews.

On February 14, 1759, John Stone signed the inventory papers as the administrator, with Samuel Stone and William Stone as the kinsmen.

Joseph Manning and Maximilian Matthews were the greatest creditors. John Stone as the executor rendered an account on February 18, 1761.

His only son, Matthew, as late as 1790 was living alone in Charles County, with five slaves, and apparently died a bachelor. On April 12, 1791, he conveyed to Richard Barnes, of Charles County, that portion of "Poynton Manor" which was decided by Matthew Stone Sr. to his son Thomas on May 13, 1747. No wife waived her dower rights. He served as a private in a militia company during the Revolution, and in 1783 he was seated on 50 acres of "Poynton Manor" with no family.

WILLIAM STONE *

William Stone, son of Matthew and Rachel (Smoot) Stone, was born at "Poynton Manor", Charles County, Maryland. Although he was a minor in 1748, at the time his father negotiated his will, he was of sufficient age in 1759 to be made the executor of his mother's estate. During the Revolutionary War he served as a private in the Charles County militia under Captain Stinnett (Unpublished Maryland Records, vol. 2, p. 279). In 1783 he was a tax payer in Upper Durham Hundred.

BARTON STONE *

(17— - 1786)

Barton Stone, son of Matthew and Rachel (Smoot) Stone, was born in Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland. On June 11, 1750, he deeded to John Stone a portion of "Poynton Manor", at which time no wife waived her dower rights. On August 8, same year, he conveyed to John Stone for the consideration of £5 and 4,000 pounds of tobacco another portion of the manor, being the 75 acres which had been deeded to Captain William Watts by Matthew Stone.

In 1759 Barton Stone signed the inventory papers of his mother's personal estate as the next of kin. On February 14, 1778, before the "Worshipful Richard Barnes" in Charles County he took the Oath of Allegiance and Fidelity to the State of Maryland.⁴ Some time after this date he and his family settled in Stafford County, Virginia, near the town of Falmouth.

His wife was Sarah, the daughter of Thomas Speake, who shared in her father's will, probated November 12, 1766, in Charles County.

1. Hawkins Stone married twice. q.v.
2. Richard Stone. q.v.
3. William Barton Stone. q.v.
4. Sarah Stone.
5. Anne Stone married William Phillips.

The will of Barton Stone was dated July 28, 1785, and proved in Stafford County, Virginia, on February 13, 1786, by Edward Norman, Charles Stewart, and William Stark. He bequeathed to his son Hawkins 1,000 pounds of tobacco, to his son Richard six negroes, and the like amount of negroes to his daughters Anne Phillips and Sarah Stone. He also bequeathed negroes to his grandsons Barton Speake Stone and William Barton Stone. The residue of the estate was devised to his son William who was named as executor.

Dissatisfaction arose over the will, consequently, the five children including William Phillips and Anne his wife agreed to an equal distribution of the estate, which occurred on January 28, 1786/7.

SAMUEL STONE *

Samuel Stone, son of Matthew and Rachel (Smoot) Stone, was born at "Poynton Manor", Durham Parish, Charles County. He married Elizabeth, daughter of John and Rebecca Howard, of the same county. His wife as Elizabeth Stone shared in the estate of her mother Rebecca Howard in 1770.

In 1778 Samuel Stone took the oath of allegiance and fidelity to the State of Maryland in Charles County, his name being on the list of "His Worshipful Richard Barnes' Returns".⁵

In 1778 he was one of the bondsmen for Richard Robins Reeder, the executor of Esther Harrison. At the tax list of 1783 he was assessed for 100 acres of "Poynton Manor", and had six in his immediate family. Richard Marshall in his will, dated 1784, spoke of "my half brother and sister Samuel Stone's children". At the first census of 1790, Samuel Stone Sr. was living in Charles County with himself and another male over the age of 16, one male under 16, two females, and eight slaves.

⁵ Unpub. Md. Records, vol. 5, p. 42, D. A. R. Library.

Note: No further record of Samuel Stone can be found in Charles County. The 1800 census of Somerset County, Maryland, shows a Rev. Samuel Stone as the head of a family. He and his wife were more than 45 years of age, and in the home were one male between 26 and 45, two females and one male between 16 and 26, and one female less than 10 years. There were also five free negroes and fifteen slaves on the estate.

JOHN STONE *
(1714 - 1775)

John Stone, son of Matthew and Rachel (Smoot) Stone, was born at "Poynton Manor", Durham Parish, Charles County, Maryland. In court during 1769, he declared himself to be 55 years of age and mentioned his father Matthew Stone, then deceased. He married twice, but the name of his first wife has not been established.

5. Mary Stone married Jeremiah Gray.

By 1763 John Stone had become a widower and had married Mary, the daughter of Barton Warren, but then the widow and administratrix of Harrison Musgrove. On June 6, 1758, she, then being Mrs. Mary Musgrove, shared in the distribution of her father's estate. On April 29, 1760, she was granted letters of administration on the estate of her deceased husband, Harrison Musgrove, with Noley Warren and John Warren offering bond. The final settlement was made by her on May 15, 1762, as Mary Musgrove, and showed distribution to her and unnamed children.

Children of John and Mary (Warren) Stone

6. Matthew Stone married Jane ———.
7. Warren Stone.
8. Elizabeth Stone.
9. Barton Warren Stone married twice. q.v.

John Stone negotiated his will on August 6, 1775, and appointed his wife, Mary, as the executrix. He named the following children—Thomas, Josias, William, John, Matthew, Warren, Elizabeth, and Barton; and grandson John Stone Gray. The instrument was admitted to probate in Charles County on September 12, 1775, by Samuel Stone, Elizabeth Stone, and Theophilus Hanson.

The inventory of his personal estate was taken on May 31, 1776, with Mary Stone and Josiah Stone as the executors, and Barton Stone and Samuel Stone as the kinsmen.

His estate was distributed on November 5, 1776, to the widow, and the following representatives—William Stone, Josiah Stone, John Stone, Matthew Stone, Warren Stone, Elizabeth Stone, Barton Stone, and John Gray. The sureties for the executors were Thomas Stone and Edward Warren.

Before 1778 his widow with her Stone children either joined or settled with her Musgrove children in Pittsylvania County, Virginia, then an undeveloped and outpost county of that State.

At the December term of court in 1778, Thomas Stone "one of the surviving administrators" of John Stone offered a petition setting forth the fact that the decessor's estate was then in the hands of Mary Stone and Josias Stone and that most of it had been wasted or removed out of the State and that he "is in danger of suffering in the responsibility", and therefore the court ordered that the other executors be summoned to the next court. On February 12, 1779, Benjamin Philpott and Thomas Harris gave bond for Mary Stone, widow, and Josias Stone, executors of John Stone.

MATTHEW STONE *
(17— - 1757)

Matthew Stone, son of Matthew and Rachel (Smoot) Stone, was born in Charles County. After 1749 he married Sarah, the daughter of Benjamin and Elizabeth Douglas.

Children of Matthew and Sarah (Douglas) Stone

1. Rachel Stone.
2. Elizabeth Land Stone.
3. Benjamin Stone.

Matthew Stone died intestate in Charles County. The court named his widow, Sarah Stone, as administratrix who certified to the inventory on August 10, 1757. John Stone and Samuel Stone were the kinsmen. The final account was rendered on November 25, 1758, when the proceeds were distributed among the widow, and the following children—Rachel, Elizabeth, and Benjamin. John Stone and Charles Douglas were the sureties for the administratrix.

Sarah Stone, the widow, negotiated her will on August 29, 1775, and named her brother, Jesse Douglas, as the executor, and bequeathed the estate to her daughters, Rachel Stone and Elizabeth Land Stone.

In 1619, a year marked by several important events in the Colony, including the assembling of the first General Assembly, the London Company adopted a "Cote for Virginia". The coat-of-arms has been a puzzle and source of speculation to every historian and has been sometimes confused with the proper seal of the Colony itself. It is found as a book plate or frontispiece in nearly all of the printed acts and official proceedings of the Colonial government. It appears in Smith's Generall Historie of Virginia, editions 1624 and 1625; in Beverley's History of Virginia, in several issues of the Virginia Gazette, and in Stow's Survey of London, published in 1633. It was changed slightly from time to time to make the quarterings agree with the arms of the different reigning houses, and after the union of England and Scotland "quartam" succeeded "quintum" in the motto. The illustration is from the title page of Merchants of Virginia in the Virginia State Library.

NUG-CAP195.

In 1619, a year marked by several important events in the Colony, including the assembling of the first General Assembly, the London Company adopted a "Coat for Virginia". The coat-of-arms has been a puzzle and source of speculation to every historian and has been sometimes confused with the proper seal of the Colony itself. It is found as a book plate or frontispiece in nearly all of the printed acts and official proceedings of the Colonial government. It appears in Smith's General History of Virginia, editions 1624 and 1632; in Beverley's History of Virginia, in several issues of the Virginia Gazette, and in Stow's Survey of London, published in 1633. It was changed slightly from time to time to make the quarterings agree with the arms of the different reigning houses, and after the union of England and Scotland "quartum" succeeded "quintum" in the motto. The illustration is from the title page of Merchants of Virginia in the Virginia State Library.
